

Alp and the Wonderful Garden

By Hakulabs

Alp loved his garden! It was filled with colorful flowers and yummy vegetables. One sunny morning, Alp's father asked him for help cleaning the garden.

The garden looked a little messy. Leaves and twigs were scattered everywhere! "Let's work together, Alp!" said his father, handing him a small rake.

Alp started raking, carefully gathering the leaves. He worked hard, even though some of the leaves were bigger than his hands! His father showed him how to pick up the twigs.

They worked side by side, chatting and laughing. Alp learned about different kinds of plants and the importance of keeping the garden tidy. He loved hearing his father's stories.

Soon, the garden started to look much better! Alp felt proud of their teamwork. They had filled a big wheelbarrow with leaves and twigs.

They took a break and enjoyed a picnic in the garden. Alp ate a juicy tomato he had helped grow. It tasted delicious, and he felt very happy.

After the picnic, they watered the plants. Alp learned how important water is for the plants to grow! He promised to help his father every day.

The garden was sparkling clean and ready for new seeds. Alp knew that helping in the garden was fun and rewarding. He couldn't wait to see what would grow next!
